Judy Stevens Crowned Queen At Military Ball

The thirteenth annual Military Ball was presented Friday evening by the Reserve Officers Training Corps of Western. Judy Stevens, of Middlesboro, was crowned military queen. Her attendants were Betty Jo and Anna Jo Cook, of London. Maurine Morgan, of Mayfield, Marjorie Wade, of Horse Cave, Martha Stevens, of Middlesboro, and Ruth Britton, of Louisville. She was crowned by Lt. Col. Richard H. Agnew, head of Western's military department. Also participating in the coronation ceremony was Honorary Cadet Captain Nancy Murray.

The ball opened at 9 p. m. in the physical education building, which was attractively decorated for the occasion. Suspended from the ceiling in the center, was a large, blue sphere with the letters 'W.K.T.C.' and 'R.O.T.C.' in silver. Streamers of red, white, blue and yellow were attached to the balcony from this sphere. The stage was decorated in red and grey, the school colors, and the throne was in white and yellow with red and grey trim, with a large red 'W' on the dais.

In the receiving line were Presi-

Alumnus Makes Discovery In The Medical Field

Discovery of a new chemical agent which may revolutionize penicillin therapy has been developed by Dr. Karl H. Beyer, formerly of Henderson, Kentucky.

Dr. Beyer, who heads the Sharps and Dohme, Inc. Department of pharmacology in Philadelphia, said the agent, now in clinical study, has been found definitely to enhance penicillin plasma concentrations in man.

The former Kentuckian explained that the new agent, caronamide, is used in conjunction with penicillin to inhibit the excretion of penicillin from the body and to maintain high therapeutic concentrations of penicillin, an antibiotic, in blood plasma for longer periods of time.

In other highly resistant infections such as typhoid fever, brucel-

Toppers Will Shoot For Eighth Straight Crown

The tenseness of a Kentucky Derby will abound at the Western gym on March 6, 7, and 8, when the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association brings here the best teams ever seen in the "oldest basketball tourney in the South's" long history. Western has won the last seven tourneys in a row.

It may truly be a Kentucky Derby on the hardwood, for this state boasts of more exceptional teams than any other state in the country, as shown by the expert authoritative ratings which list Western, Eastern, Murray, Louisville, and Morehead high among those of the nation. It is very possible that these teams will be invited to this traditional tournament, along with the champ outfit from South Carolina of the first district, Tennessee, Alabama, Florida, and Georgia of the second, Mississippi and Louisiana of the third and the horse-racing state, and Kentucky of the fourth district.

Each of these quintets from these far away places is gunning for the Western outfit which has made coping this tourney a custom since 1937. Coach Ed Diddle only too well knows he'll find his winning habits the hardest ever to uphold because reports show the post-war teams of the above mentioned colleges also are terrific.

Murray Smashed, 66-32, As Hilltoppers Pour It On

By Bart Hagerman

After a rather slow first half, the Western Hilltoppers turned on the steam last Saturday night to completely outclass and smother the Murray Thoroughbreds, 66-32, as the two teams opened their week of hostilities at the Western gym.

Approximately 4,000 fans attended the tilt and the gym fairly rocked as the Toppers came back at the half to pour in 34 points in the first 14 minutes. The one-sided victory produced the largest margin between the two rivals in their 46 previous meetings and thoroughly avenged the 28-point defeat suffered last year at the hands of a Navy-trainee-studded Murray five.

Western jumped to a 4-0 lead as Embry hit a fielder and Gibson and McKinney added free throws. Murray entered the scoring column as Charlie Snow twisted in a one-hander.

The first 15 minutes saw the score tied only once at 6-6 when five minutes had elapsed and the game had begun to look like another nip-and-tuck affair—not at all uncommon for Western-Murray games. Both teams were missing numerous dead shots and Western had just been able to stay two or four points ahead. The last five minutes saw new life come to the Toppers as Spears hit his first two baskets and added his sixth free throw. Don Ray popped in one of his jump shots and the Breds trailed 25-15 at the half.

The second half was all Western. Gibson pushed in a one-hander, Spears stole the ball and dribbled from mid-floor for a crisp, Gibson counted another one-hander and Embry added a one-handed push-up before Murray woke up.

Outstanding in the victory was the offensive show by Odie Spears and the fancy ball handling of Oran McKinney. Spears, who played the first 18 minutes before

Congress Debating Club Reorganizes On Campus

By Doug Trail

The first weekly meeting of Western's all-male Congress Debating club took place at 7:15 p. m., Friday, January 31, at Spell hall. This first regular meeting had been preceded by a preliminary congregation in the Little Theatre last Tuesday, January 28, to find out how much interest would be shown. Interest ran high and at the regular meeting Friday night, twenty new members were accepted.

According to the constitution of the Congress debating club, new members may only be admitted by a two-thirds majority of the old members present. This condition got the club off to a fine, technical start as there were only two old, standing members present. It was necessary for these two, Chappel Aldrich and Jack Corman, to formally accept and give the oath to the twenty new members in order to abide by the club's constitution. The new members admitted were:

John W. Espey, another old member in good standing, arrived later in the meeting but in time to be elected as sergeant at arms. Other elections placed older and more experienced members, Chappel Aldrich as president and Jack Corman in the important combination office of secretary-treasurer, while the new member, Frank Bartlett was elected to fill the vice-president's chair. Senator Bartlett will be required to

Vets Adopt City Government In Veterans Village

Veterans Village began the organization of its city-type government Wednesday, January 22, with its first general town-meeting.

The meeting was called to order by R. L. Slemaker, the acting chairman, who set forth the need for organization and made suggestions as to the form of government, number and type of officials and their duties, and division of the Village for purposes of representation.

It was decided by the group that the Village should be divided for representative purposes into four districts—District No. 1 to include the north barracks and the double trailers, District No. 2 to consist only of the pre-fabricated houses, District No. 3 to be made up of all single trailers including those privately owned, and District No. 4 to embrace all of the south barracks. Each district, it was agreed, would be represented by one alderman, and the group was to be represented by

Kerensky Will Be Available For Group Meetings

Alexander Kerensky, one of the world's outstanding personalities, will be the principal speaker at chapel on Thursday morning, February 20. Mr. Kerensky, for many years a prominent leader of the Democratic movement in Russia, will be on the campus until Friday, February 21, and will be available for discussion with small groups and classes.

Tentative plans are being made to have Mr. Kerensky address students and faculty members of the history department Thursday afternoon at one o'clock in room 210, Cherry hall.

The coming guest speaker, known throughout the world as a champion of democracy, was elected to the State Duma in Russia in 1912, where he took an active part in political affairs and earned an enviable reputation as a leader and orator. Following the overthrow of the Monarchy in 1917, he became vice-president and minister of Justice of the newly formed Revolutionary Provisional government. Later that same year, he assumed additional duties as minister of War and actively organized the last Russian offensive against Germany in World War I. Five months before Lenin's overthrow of the Provisional Government Mr. Kerensky became president of that body and a commander-in-chief of the Army.

MR. DIDDLE KEEPS 'EM FLYING— HAS TOWELS AND RIVALS UP IN AIR

(Ed. Note: This colorful description of an equally colorful coach—Western's Ed Diddle, appeared on page 3 of the Madison Square Garden program on the night of the Western-St. John's game. The story was ably penned by Leonard Lewin, of the New York Daily Mirror.)

Hi! Diddlin' Diddle.
St. John's in the middle,
With hopes as high as the moon.
The ants in your antics,
And towel-throwing frantics,
Will lead Lapchick's Redmen to ruin.

Western Kentucky's gift to the laundry business, Diddlin' Ed Diddle, returns to Madison Square Garden, after a year's holiday, with bigger and better—towels. They have to be bigger, because the Hilltoppers are about the tallest bunch of courtmen to appear here this season. And they must be better to stand up under the beating Diddle's been giving them. There's a rub to this towel story and it's best we come clean now.

When Ed, newly-elected chairman of the National Coaches Ulcers and Nervous Breakdown Association, tosses the towel it's not a sign that he's giving up. Or complaining, either. It's simply a storm-warning signal that his boys are breezing along with the breeze.

If a Hilltopper makes a basket or neat play, then Diddle hangs out the laundry on an imaginary clothes-line. The towel really goes a-flyin'. Thus, after years of practice, the Western Kentucky mentor has gained the signal honor of being national towel-thrower-and-catcher champion. No other coach can make that statement.

On the other hand, should his lads louse up the joint, then Diddle buries his gloom along with his face, in the double-duty Cannon special. But that's a maneuver which Ed's been foregoing for the most part this season. The gang he's got working for him simply refuses to see its jovial coach fall into the depths of sadness. The way the Hilltoppers have been keeping the towels flying, one would think they were all looking for Diddle's washing business.

Ed was a pretty good country ball player in his day. He put in four years of basketball and football at Centre college—the famous Praying Colonels who first brought Bo McMillin to the nation's attention. Diddle was a blocking back for the great runner, now Indiana coach, who was the key man in Centre's upset-of-the-century victory over unbeatable Harvard.

Since taking over as Western Kentucky hoop coach, Diddle's lucky towels have helped him win 376 games and lose only 125, prior to this season. That's a .750 average. Which leads us up to some friendly advice to our buck-in-and-buck-out buddy, Joe Lapchick:

"Play to his strength, Joe. Pull a Delilah on the Sampson. Steal his towels!"

THANKS

The results of the trip east were most gratifying, yes, but so was the support and cooperation shown by the fine local fans, the townspeople, our students, and numerous friends of this college throughout the nation.

Particularly to be commended is the large part that station WLBj played in making the trip a huge success, both to those who went and to those who stayed in Bowling Green. Thousands of Western fans tuned in nightly to anxiously await Ken Given's courtside description of the games. The staff of WLBj has been most cooperative throughout this season, as in past years, and they have done everything humanly possible to insure utmost enjoyment of Hilltopper games—at home and away.

The Hilltopper party was amazed by the reception it received upon the return to Bowling Green. The cooperation and unity shown by the various city departments in this project is in keeping with the highest traditions set by predecessors in Bowling Green—the South's friendliest city.

Directors Clinic Draws Over 100; String Quartet Presented In City

By Miriam Mitchell

The music department literally "turned out" to make the first director's clinic in several years a success last Saturday, February 1.

Judging by the great amount of enthusiasm shown by the approximately 80 students from high schools who attended with their directors, the clinic was definitely a success. The college band, directed by Dr. Hugh Gunderson, played a 3-hour session of new band music and 1947 contest music. The band was augmented by the visiting students swelling the ranks to approximately 80 pieces which kept the sound waves hopping Saturday morning.

Mr. Adain P. Lesinsky, Whiting, Indiana, was guest conductor for the band and orchestra and commented on each selection played to the visiting directors.

The Clinic orchestra performed Saturday afternoon under the direction of Mr. Lesinsky. The most noted expansion of the orchestra was in the string section with approximately 22 members. This was the first time for many of the high school students to play in an orchestra and from their comments one would know that they were definitely enjoying the experience.

Immediately following the orchestra program the college chorus (with the visiting students) of 80 voices was conducted in a session of reading choral music from the contest list by Mr. Claude Rose, director of the chorus.

Runnings concurrently with the organization performances were various discussions concerning various problems encountered by the music teacher by faculty members and student teachers.

The clinic was concluded late Saturday afternoon with the objectives definitely attained. Perhaps of most significance is the fact that such a program (as stated by Dr. Gunderson, clinic chairman, as a principal objective) will lead eventually to this section being recognized as a music center and thus attract more qualified personnel to the clinic and area.

On a recent trip to New York, Dr. Weldon Hart visited with Jacob A. Evans, Western graduate from the music department, whose position with the National Broadcasting Company is to be noted and lauded by Western friends.

"Jake," as he was known on the Hill played horn in the training school orchestra and developed an interest in composition (among his pieces was a composition for orchestra "La Mer") which was confirmed by Dr. Hart as one of the most talented students he has known since coming to Western. Following graduation, he completed work for a masters degree in composition from the University of Michigan and taught intermittently in Franklin, Kentucky. Drafted into the army, Jake served as band director with a sergeant's rating. While in the army he was very active in special service division overseas. He wrote shows the music for them and directed performance of the shows which gained nation-wide acclaim.

After leaving the army, Mr. Evans completed a number of courses in radio at N.B.C. in Columbia University. After a few months there he was offered a position as manager of sales promotion (KSTT) in Iowa. Being called back as N.B.C. assistant to manager of sales promotion, Evans is now located in New York.

Since leaving Western, Jake has married and has one child, Carol. He retains a keen interest in Western and Western students and asks to be remembered to them.

The Composer's Club, founded in June, 1942 and active until fall of 1943 by Dr. John Vincent (then music department head) has been revived by Dr. Weldon Hart, a charter member. The Club which meets once a month has as its purpose the mutual stimulation of composition within the group and criticism of the works.

Officers of the organization are: Dr. Hart, president; Mr. Claude Rose, College Chorus director, secretary; and Mr. O. A. Mattel, harmony instructor and Training school director, treasurer. Mattel is also a charter member. Members are: Mr. George Daggit, piano instructor; Miss Olga Eitner, violin instructor; Dr. Hugh Gunderson, band director; and Lyn Mitchell, music student.

A program is being planned by the Club for the performance of the best compositions written within the organization which will probably materialize in early spring.

The Bowling Green Music Club presented the Faculty String Quartet January 28 in the Little Theatre. This was one of the first appearances of a number to be made by the group this year, including a

Dr. Crabb Speaks On February 18

Dr. A. L. Crabb, former faculty member of Western, and now professor at George Peabody College will be the principal speaker in chapel February 18.

Dr. Crabb is not a stranger to Western. A native of Warren county he was professor of education at Western from 1916-1923, following his graduation from the Western Kentucky State Normal School in the class of 1910. He served as chairman of the faculty, a position equivalent to that of dean, in 1923-26 before leaving the Hill. Since then, he has been Professor of Education in the George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville.

Dr. Crabb is well known also for his extensive writing. His works include short stories, essays, articles, books. "Dinner at Belmont," a Civil War story of Nashville, is his best known popular work.

The Congress Debating club wishes to extend its cordial invitation to any and all male students of Western who are interested in furthering their ability as speakers or who would like to engage in the somewhat fiery debates which inevitably occur at its weekly meetings. All new applications will lay upon the table for one week's consideration and will then be voted upon. A two-thirds majority of members present is required for acceptance. All members of the club are referred to as "Senators" and dues for a lifetime membership are fifty-cents at the time of acceptance.

losis, and subacute bacterial endocarditis, Dr. Beyer said it is hoped that the combined caronamide-penicillin therapy will result in the maintenance of levels sufficiently high to treat those diseases much more effectively than by the use of penicillin alone.

Dr. Beyer is quoted in an Associated Press release as saying that in the past the attainment and maintenance of high plasma concentrations of penicillin have been difficult because it is excreted from the body at an extremely rapid rate.

The advantages of caronamide, Dr. Beyer explained, is that it has a low order of toxicity, is effective at relatively low concentration and can be administered orally or otherwise.

Dr. Beyer is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Karl Beyer, 133 Clay Street, Henderson, Kentucky.

Dr. Beyer received the B.S. degree from Western in 1935. He did twenty-nine hours of graduate work. He majored in chemistry and minored in mathematics and German. Dr. Beyer was secretary-treasurer of the Chemistry-Physics club in 1936 and also sergeant-at-arms. While a student on the Hill Dr. Beyer resided at the home of Dr. Lee Francis Jones, head of the educational department.

The home economics department has ordered some electrical equipment from the Westinghouse company. Two of the electric stoves arrived recently.

Mrs. John Nolan Named Secretary Of TB Group

Mrs. John E. Nolan, formerly Lucille McMurtry, has recently accepted the secretaryship of the Bowling Green and Warren county TB association, which is joining with six other communities in Kentucky in this progressive move.

Mrs. Nolan will begin her work of promoting a preventive, educational, and rehabilitational program February 15. On April 1 she will go to New York for a seven-weeks' course training her for the National Tuberculosis association work.

The secretary's salary will be paid by the state and local tuberculosis association. Her office will be in Cherry hall. J. R. Whitmer, H. B. Gray, and Everett Witt were on the committee to select the secretary.

Mrs. Nolan is the daughter of the late Mr. A. H. McMurtry, Western faculty member, and Mrs. M. McMurtry. She was graduated from College High school in 1941 sharing valedictory honors with a fellow student. Mrs. Nolan received her A.B. degree from Western in 1944, when she was voted one of twelve representatives to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

After graduating as an English major, minoring in history and library science, Mrs. Nolan accepted a position in the Fort Knox High school where she remained for two years. Mr. Nolan, a World War II veteran, is now enrolled at Western.

Kardex File System Aids In Locating References

By Kay Koger

Facilitating the reference service of the periodical room is the Kardex completed during the summer. This is a file on cards, housed in a cabinet, giving the complete periodical holdings of the college library and partial holdings of the Kentucky library. It also includes a small number of magazine titles available at the Training school library.

Alphabetically arranged, the file is accessible for use to everyone. Information given includes titles, dates of files in the library, location of bound volumes, and where necessary for clearness the change of title or history of a particular publication.

Alongside the more familiar magazines on the shelves in the periodical room are less well-known publications that may be of professional or avocational interest to many individuals.

Their titles: Aviation, American Journal of Nursing, Chemical News, Medical Records, Oil and Gas Journal, indicate the special fields treated. From the point of view of the research worker in the field of English history, the most important recent acquisition is Hansards' Parliamentary Debates, covering the present sessions of the House of Commons and the House of Lords. These correspond to our Congressional Record.

The individual who wants to build a home or to assist in the planning of some public building will find many suggestions and plans in American Builder and Architectural Record.

The international-minded person will enjoy Canadian Geographical Record, highlighting the scenic beauty and grandeur of our northern neighbor; Inter-American, interpreting economically and politically the Latin-American countries; and the Far Eastern Quarterly, giving more scholarly discussions of questions in that region.

Occupations should interest every one who will be asked to counsel young people or adults or veterans in their choice of a career.

Sublett, Western Grad, Is Appointed Dean of Women At Bethel

Miss Maurine Sublett, Western graduate, was recently appointed dean of women at Bethel Women's college in Hopkinsville. Miss Sublett received the A.B. degree from Western in 1941, majoring in history and social sciences. Afterward she attended the University of Wisconsin and received the Masters degree in history there.

Miss Sublett spent two years in teaching social studies at Halleck Hall Junior High school in Louisville before coming to Bethel as head of the department of social sciences. Since her appointment as Dean of Women at Bethel, Miss Sublett has been instrumental in the reorganization of the American Association of University Women there.

While at Western Miss Sublett took an active part in dramatic productions and was third in the scholastic ratings of her class.

Nation's Capitol Greets Toppers

Capitol Hilltoppers from Kentucky, who are among the nation's top ball-carriers, recently turned out to salute Western's Hilltoppers who trooped in from their trip east with a basketful of glory.

About 150 noted Kentuckians, including many top administrative posts in the nation's capitol, attended the luncheon preceding the Western-Georgetown university game in Washington. D. C. Frank Porter brought with him many luminaries from the sports world including Joe Haynes, Chicago's White Sox pitcher; Turk Edwards, coach of the Washington Redskins; George McAfee of the Chicago Bears; and Calvin Griffith, vice-president of the Washington baseball club with several of his basebalers.

Senator Alben W. Barkley, after hearing this array of talent introduced and of the fabulous sums paid them, said, "I wonder why I stayed in the Senate. If you know of anyone who needs a good man, send him over to the Senate office building."

Other than Senator Barkley, Representatives Noble Gregory, Thurston Morton, W. Howes Meade, John Robson, Virgil Chapman, and Frank Self gave a rousing, bi-partisan cheer for Coach Ed Diddle and his squad of cagers. Accompanying the team was a host of rooters, a radio team, and Western sports officials. With Representative Meade was his wife, a Western alumna who was voted the college's most beautiful coed in her senior year here.

Coach Diddle received a rousing, cordial welcome and shared it with each member of his squad. The luncheon was given at the Burlington hotel—and was arranged by Henry Her and Bill Temple, who are from Bowling Green.

The Rural school children have been using colored paper, scissors, and paste to make pictures depicting all the states of the United States. Supplementing this work, Miss Ethel Clark is using a picture machine to show the various states.

Graudans Featured In Concert Presentation

The next community concert will bring Nikolai and Joanna Graudan, a piano-cello duo to Van Meter hall on Friday evening, February 14.

The Graudans were born in the Russian town of Lihau. Nikolai went to study at the St. Petersburg conservatory to study and Joanna studied piano in the Ukraine. They both went to Berlin, Nikolai to concert and Joanna to complete her studies. It was not until they both returned to Lihau one summer that they met. They began to combine their musical abilities, and two years later their musical romance culminated in their marriage.

The Graudans have played in all the leading capitals of Europe, throughout the United States, and in 1930 they were presented in the Dutch East Indies. Since the war one of the chief activities of this busy couple has been playing in army and navy hospitals throughout the country.

Besides their ensemble work, the Graudans have distinguished themselves in solo capacity. Besides many solo appearances in Europe, each has been frequently with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra conducted by Dimitri Mitropoulos.

finding the range for a field goal, racked up 23 points as he hit the bucket eight times and added seven free throws in as many attempts. McKinney did a beautiful job in rebounding and handling the ball. Always playing a nice defensive game, Big Mac did everything but eat the ball as he fed it in repeatedly for lay-ups.

High scorer for the game was Spears followed by Embry with 11 and Ray and Gibson with 10 each. McKinney followed with eight and Oldham and Mann rounded out the scoring with two each.

Rex Alexander led Murray with seven points while Odell Phillips had six. The highly regarded Red Reagan was throttled to five points by Western's defensive ace, Gibson.

The win was Western's twelfth in 15 starts and their second KIAC win against one loss. For Murray it was the seventh defeat in 18 games.

Ruth Wilson and Neva Kenner are occupying the home management house. They will stay there for six weeks.

Participating in the panel was a general discussion in which the entire group participated.

The club, under the sponsorship of Dr. C. P. Denman, acted as host to the University of Havana ball team and was highly commended by their director of athletics for its fine job of entertaining. The highlight of the entertainment was a coke party held at the Kentucky building.

The Carnegie Endowment, promoter of the organization, has already sent a donation of books and pamphlets upon international relations as they stand today.

Officers elected were James F. McDaniel, president; Jeanne Payne, vice-president; Doris Blewitt, secretary; Jean Ward, corresponding secretary; and Charles Bryant, treasurer.

Toppers Really Get Around

Everyone knows the Toppers played a lot of basketball on their eastern tour, but just what did the boys see and do off the hardwood? Well, according to the reports of several squad members, the boys had a pretty entertaining trip—something to remember for quite a while.

Arriving in Buffalo after the long train ride, the boys shook out the kinks Friday afternoon and went to see "Blue Skies" that night. Saturday they rested or looked at the city a bit. After slipping the blocks to Canisius that night the Toppers left for New York City.

Sunday afternoon it was the side-walks of New York. Some went to hear Tommy Dorsey or Elliot Lawrence while others listened to music by Vaughn Monroe or the Mills Brothers. Sunday night the Toppers saw a professional hockey game between the New York Rangers and the Chicago Blackhawks. The Blackhawks boast a flashy brother combine, who incidentally, decorate the cover on the latest issue of Sports magazine.

Monday everyone slept late, took in a good show and then worked out before supper at the 69th Armory. This is where the pros play their games and the playing floor is pretty nice. Tuesday afternoon was sight-seeing time and Tuesday night the St. John's Redmen went down swinging.

Wednesday morning the Toppers left for Washington D. C. That afternoon they worked out at George Washington university gym and then rested that night. Thursday afternoon they toured the sights in the capitol. Skipping the gruesome details of the Georgetown loss, Friday afternoon the Hilltoppers visited the F.B.I. building and all really enjoyed this. The next afternoon at 3:00 they left for Philadelphia, arriving at 5:00 and meeting St. Joseph's that night.

After the game, began the long trip home, and the surprise welcome for them at the train station. Everyone had a swell time and already the buzzing is going around about an even bigger and better trip next year. Judging from the battle they put up, the boys well expressed their appreciation for the trip.

Dr. Earl A. Moore was the speaker at the Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting in Scottsville on Friday, January 17.

Faculty Notes

Dr. C. A. Jagers will give a talk at the Ladies Night meeting of the Springfield Tennessee Kiwanis club, on February 11. His subject will be "Philosophy In Poetry."

Kelly Thompson, Coach Ed Diddle, and Assistant Coach Ted Hornback were invited to make a report at the January 30 meeting of the Kiwanis club on the Kentuckians' experiences on the trip east.

Mr. Thompson thanked the city for its support, stating that he "did not know of a town that loaned equal or better support to any first class project." He referred to Coach

Diddle as "the greatest basketball coach in the nation."

Coach Diddle paid tribute to the outstanding performance of Dee Gibson in the Western-Canisius game.

Coach Hornback's report was on the high esteem in which the team was held in every place the group visited.

Dr. A. M. Stickles, head of Western's history department, has recently accepted an appointment to the program committee of the Southern Historical Association. The committee will be in charge of the program at the annual meeting to be held sometime next fall. Dr. T. C. Williams of Louisiana State University is chairman of the committee.

Western Seeded First In KIA C Tournament; Will Meet Centre In Opener

Hilltoppers Hang 56-50 Defeat On St. Josephs

The Western Hilltoppers rang down the curtain on their eastern tour last Saturday night with an impressive 56-50 victory over St. Josephs college in Philadelphia.

An estimated 7,500 people packed Convention hall to see the Blue Grass lads turn on the steam to outlast the fighting St. Josephs five—recent victors over powerful Rhode Island State. Western racked up 19 field goals in 73 tries as compared to the Hawks record of 20 out of 78. The difference was at the foul line, Western converting 18 while St. Joseph collected but ten.

The first half was a ding-dong battle. Nip-and-tuck all the way, the lead changed hands 11 times and was tied on six occasions. At the intermission Western had gained a 25-24 lead.

The first six minutes of the second half were just as hectic as the first half had been. Battling point for point, the Toppers broke into the clear as Odie Spears threw in a twister to break a 28-28 deadlock. Spears dropped in a foul and after Norm Butz, St. Joseph guard and the game's high point man had scored a fielder, added two more buckets to push on to 35-30.

With nine minutes remaining, St. Josephs pulled up within two points at 38-40, out an "Embry special" and a foul toss by Spears pushed the Toppers out into a more comfortable lead. Holding a 47-40 advantage, Dee Gibson quarterbacked a slow break and the Big Red began freezing the ball. Fighting to gain possession of the ball, St. Josephs fouled repeatedly and most of the closing Western points came via the free throw line.

Leading the Western scoring was Odie Spears and Chalmers Embry with 14 and 11 points respectively. Outstanding was the work of Oran McKinney. Besides turning in his stellar guarding and rebounding game, "Big Mac" with 10 points, showed more of the offensive spark that characterized his play before the war.

The St. Joseph victory was a far cry from the preceding Thursday night tilt with Georgetown university in the nation's capitol. Western, badly off in all departments, bowed 57-46 as the Hoyas snapped the Topper win string at nine games.

But for Odie Spears, the game would have been a slaughter. In the first 16 minutes of the game he was the only one to score a field goal for the Toppers. Spears ended the game with 10 buckets and four foul tosses for a 24 point evening.

Georgetown jumped to an early nine point lead and kept hot to lead 32-28 at the halftime. Midway in the second half Dee Gibson hit from the circle to tie it up at 39-all and Spears smacked in a follow shot and it looked as if Western had hit their stride. Four straight Georgetown baskets followed and the Hoyes were away to the market.

On the trip East, the Toppers defeated Canisius, St. John's and St. Joseph's while dropping but the one tilt to Georgetown.

Western, U. Of L. Placed In Upper Bracket While Eastern Draws Lower

By Roger Gibson

It was Rudyard Kipling who wrote, "East is east and West is west, and a'er the twain shall meet," but that was before the inception of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Tournament, which this year will be held at the Louisville Armory February 20, 21, 22. With Coach Diddle's Western quintet and Coach McBrayer's Eastern Maroons of Richmond placed in opposite brackets—it looks as though the line should read thusly: "East is East and West is West, and they have to meet to see who's best." However, each team has to play some determined customers before realizing this "natural."

In the upper bracket there is Western, (12-3)—the favorite; Centre, its first opponent, (4-10)—weak; Louisville, (12-2)—dangerous; Georgetown, (8-9)—just so-so; and Berea, (3-8)—appears outclassed, while the lower bracket harbors Eastern, possessing the most imposing record, (15-1)—favorite, Murray (11-7)—could be, Union (16-4)—dark horse, Transylvania (1-8)—no hope here, Wesleyan (7-8)—hot and cold, Morehead (11-9)—possibility. These won-lost records were compiled through last week's play.

The drawings which determined this arrangement was made at the Armory Sunday, February 2. Western, Eastern, Louisville and Murray were seeded in that order by votes of all coaches. Western then drew and was placed in the upper bracket, along with Louisville, who drew a first round bye and looms as a big hurdle. The two other seeded teams, Eastern and Murray, were placed in the lower brackets. Morehead, having the most profitable draw, is the dark-horse.

Coach Diddle, Peck Hickman, U. of L. coach, and Brad Jones, Georgetown athletic director, were named the tournament committee, and Western's Kelly Thompson was voted publicity man. The refereeing will be done by Edgar McNabb, Covington, Tom Green, Georgetown, and Bowser Chest, Nashville. In addition they, along with the coaches, will form a committee to select the all-tournament team.

The prices for the KIA C tournament range from $1.00 to $2.00, with tickets for general admission on sale at game time only.

The complete draw of the tourney saw Georgetown, Berea, and Louisville draw first-round byes in the upper bracket while Wesleyan and Morehead drew byes in the lower bracket.

Western will pry the lid off the 1947 tourney by taking on the Centre Colonels of Danville at 7 p. m. Thursday, February 20. On the same night Eastern will meet Transylvania at 8:30 with the Union-Murray tilt

23 Teams Enter Wide Open Race In Intramurals

The most extensive intramural sports schedule ever adopted at Western reached its peak last week when 15 boys' basketball teams and eight girls' basketball teams filed their entries with Frank Griffin, industrious head of the program. Under the present setup, over 150 male students and approximately 100 members of the weaker sex are participating in the quests for the campus crowns.

On the men's side of the ledger, basketball—King of the Western campus—is the third sport to be inaugurated on the intramural docket. In a spirited race for the league title, the Rock House Rockets emerged the champs in football. The Veterans club bounced back to top honors in volleyball play.

With the physical education department extending every possible facility, the chase for the hardwood crown promises to be a red-hot race with several crackerjack ball clubs entered. Two games were played each night last week with the exception of Saturday night, and a surprisingly large number of students were on hand to witness the struggles.

Interest in the campus "dribble-derby" to be held in the near future is very much in evidence as spirited rivalries have already cropped up. As one member of the faculty said, "What those boys lack in ability, they certainly make up in aggressiveness and enthusiasm." The ability shown is, in many cases, excellent, too, since many of the cagers were high school or service stars.

Too, the officiating has been very satisfactory. The "whistle-tooters" are members of Western's physical education club.

Tabbed as the teams "most likely to succeed" in the intramural tourney closing out the evening's activities at 10 p. m.

Berea's Mountaineers take on Georgetown at 2:30 Friday afternoon to open the second round. The Hilltoppers, if they get by Centre, will clash with Peck Hickman's Louisville five at 7:30 p. m. Friday to complete upper bracket play.

In the bottom bracket, Morehead tackles Wesleyan in what looms as a close contest at 4 p. m. Friday while the Eastern-Transylvania winner of the Union-Murray setto at 9 p. m.

On Saturday afternoon, the semi-final round gets under way at 1:30 with the Georgetown-Berea victor meeting the winner of the Louisville vs. Western or Centre (whoever emerges on top) elimination test. Western is figured to whip a weak Centre outfit but Louisville promises to be a stern foe.

In the lower bracket, the two remaining outfits (probably Eastern and Wesleyan or Morehead) will square off at 3 p. m. to complete the build-up for the final round.

The final bout is slated for 8:30 p. m. Saturday, February 22, and if the seedings are upheld, it will be Western versus Eastern to decide the KIA C crown.

are the Physical Education quint, managed by Johnny Taylor, and the Red Scorpions, under the tutelage of the colorful "Boots" Abell. The Gym Dorm Rats also appear to have sufficient class to be very much in the running. Another dangerous quint will be the Freshman Five, with Chalmers Embry calling signals.

The veterans will be well represented by several representative outfits since the Veterans Barracks, the Barracks Bombers and the Vets club are pressing their claims to fame. Two outfits from the ROTC department appear well complemented also, the basic and advanced classes both being represented. Several footballers turn to the hardwood to give the Mustangs a rugged outfit.

Meriting consideration and well backed is the Pre-Dent cage crew. A glance at the roster shows that the Three B's are also well-stocked. The football champs—the Rock House Rockets—would be one of the top contenders if they could secure more height. The Western Aggies appear to be a well-balanced aggregation. An added starter, the Western Trade school five, is unscouted and must be classified as a "dark-horse."

Following is a resume of round-robin tilts played thus far. On Monday night, January 27, the Red Scorpions, under the coaching of versatile "Boots" Abell, defeated a strong Freshman five by a 37-23 margin. The Freshman team is coached by Chalmers Embry. Plenty of color was displayed throughout the contest as both coaches did everything but hang on the rafters to pull their hopefuls through victoriously. Abell's interest in the tilt was evinced by the condition his cigar was in after the game. Using every known tactic to pull the game out of the fire, Coach Abell eventually turned to the towel-tossing antics of Coach E. A. Diddle.

Buddy Keys, football and baseball star paced the "Abell Ables" with 17 points while W. B. Fisher, former All-State player garnered 12 for the Embry hopefuls.

In other games the Aggies downed the three B's in an overtime period by a 24-20 count. Maddox came through with 14 points to take high scoring honors for the "Ags" and Shaver counted for 10 for the three B's.

The Pre-Dents overwhelmed a weak Western Trade school five by a 29-17 count. Hughes dropped in four field goals for 8 points and Shaver collected the same total to lead for the Trade school.

Vet Village's quint took another one-sided affair from the Mustangs by a 24-10 advantage. Dennison paced the Vet Village aggregation with 10 points while Sklepovich collected 6 for the losers.

The Physical Education club smothered the Rock House five 33-14. Clarence Musgrave, former Bowling Green high star tossed in 9 points and turned in nice floor work to lead the winners. Bill Barnes tallied 5 points for the Rock House five.

Eagles Grounded By 69-41 Count

Chalmers Embry and Odie Spears had a field night Tuesday night against the Morehead Eagles, tossing in a total of 47 points to pace Western to a 69-41 victory. The Hartford sharpshooter, who appeared to be enjoying himself immensely, racked up 24 points on a dozen buckets, and big Spears had 23 on 11 baskets and a free throw.

While the scoring was provided by the two big guns, Dee Gibson was turning in another great defensive job against Sonny Allen, the state's leading scorer Dee, who took care of Murray's Johnny Reagan here Saturday in limiting him to five points, was even sharper against Allen. The Breckinridge whiz kid was able to count but a single fielder and one free throw for a total of three points.

After Eagle Coach Ellis Johnson removed Allen from the game, Coach Ed Diddle withdrew Gibson, but when Allen returned, Gibson did likewise, and Sonny had a bad evening.

From the standpoint of personal fouls, Tuesday night's encounter was the cleanest played at the local gym this season. A total of 20 personals were charged to the two teams, 13 against the Hilltoppers.

One of the chief reasons for the low number of personals was the ability of the Hilltoppers to get completely away from the Eagles on their fast break.

By virtue of his first-half performance, Odie Spears appeared to be headed for a new Hilltopper scoring record on the local floor. He had a total of 17 points during the first 15 minutes of the game, but Diddle chose to give him some rest in preparation for Wednesday's game.

Embry divided his scoring equally between the two halves, scoring a dozen in each of the periods.

The Toppers opened with a rush, Embry stealing the ball to score the first basket. He added another quickly, then hit a long to send the Toppers in front by 6-0. The score was pushed to 12-5 in five minutes, and 18-12 after 10 minutes. From that point the Diddle men surged to 33-12 with four minutes remaining in the half.

Embry again started the scoring as the Hilltoppers returned to the floor in the second half with a 40-21 lead. He socked a long, and after Johnny Oldham had counted a crisp, Embry added two more baskets in short order to give the locals a 48-21 majority. After 10 minutes of play, Western led 57-33, and subs were used freely throughout the remainder of the game.

The Hilltoppers clicked like a machine during the first half, with Oran McKinney turning in a bit of fancy ball handling. Gibson, while holding Allen to three points and scoring only three himself, was the pace setter in the fast break.

Big Don Ray, one of the leading scorers on the local five, was withheld from the game for a rest before the Eastern season.

Leading point makers for Morehead were Center Bill Martin, who had five fielders and as many foul tosses for 15 points and Carroll Hawhee with nine.

sheviks and, with a price on his head, Mr. Kerensky remained hiding in Russia until June, 1918, when he succeeded in making his escape. He has been in the United States since the fall of France.

That democratic interval in Russian history between the collapse of the Romanoff dynasty and the Bolshevik revolution has come to be known as the "Kerensky period."

Maroons Turn Crimson, Lose 81-47

The KIAC's "battle of the year" suddenly was turned into a rout by Western's surging Hilltoppers who poured in 25 points in the final six minutes of the first half to walk away from Eastern's Maroons in an 81-47 affair before another full house at the Western gym.

Heralded as the only team in the KIAC capable of giving Western a run for its money Eastern lived up to advance notices during the first 15 minutes of Wednesday night's game, but the Maroons wilted under the Western basket barrage and were out of the game before the halftime whistle sounded.

The Hilltoppers apparently were in for a bad time when Eastern snatched a 6-0 lead at the start of the game, and it was not until after 14 minutes of play that Western finally took over the lead at 19-17.

When they did get in front, the Hilltoppers turned on enough gas to remedy the city's low-pressure situation. It was zip, zip zip for about 90 seconds and Western suddenly had complete control of the situation with a 30-18 lead.

Both teams suffered telling blows during the early stages of the contest. Eastern lost its ace center, Chuck Mrazovich, who suffered a laceration under his right eye after five minutes of play, and he did not return to the game until the second half. Western's Odie Spears, scorer of 23 points Tuesday night, was pulled from the game before he made a field basket after having four quick personal fouls called against him.

Spears returned long enough in the second half to pitch in four fielders in five minutes. Mrazovich also returned to action to finish with a total of eight points for the game. Meanwhile his replacement, Bobbie Coleman, had tossed in 11 points to take scoring honors for Eastern.

Don Ray, who was withheld from the Morehead game Tuesday, bagged eight fielders and five free losses to van the scorers with a 21-point total, and he was closely followed by Chalmers Embry who had 17 to add to his 24-point job Tuesday.

Oldham followed Ray and Embry in the Western scoring with a dozen points, while Joe Fryz had 10 to trail Coleman for Eastern.

The loss was Eastern's second of the season in 18 starts, and their second in 12 KIAC games. It was Western's fourteenth win in 17 games, and the Toppers fourth in five KIAC tests.

Saturday night the Hilltoppers move to Murray for a return meeting with the Thoroughbreds. Western took the first decision from Murray in a 66-32 game here last Saturday.

Tuesday the Toppers return to the home court for their final local appearance before the KIAC tourney against Evansville. University of Hawaii will meet the Diddlemen here on March 1 in the final scheduled tilt of the season. Tickets for both of the remaining local games were placed on sale at the college yesterday, and reservations were being accepted at the bursar's office.

Eddie Diddle Is Ace Card Scorer

College High can boast of one of the best high school basketballers in the state. Eddie Diddle, son of the Hilltoppers coach, is currently burning the nets up as he plays his third year for the Cardinals. Playing the center position, Eddie has plunked in 340 points in 21 games with 5 more left on the schedule. On top of this, there is the district tournament to be played and maybe participation in the regional tournament.

So far, Eddie has averaged 16.2 points per game. He has had only four nights that he hasn't hit at least a two column number. Twice he was held to six and twice to nine. One game he made 12 and all the rest have been 14 and better. His best scoring record for a single game was with Edmonton, January 17. Young Diddle tossed in 30 points that night against the team coached by Alex Downing, brother of the College High mentor Dero Downing.

Eddie is quite handy with his books too as his records will show and has a decided talent on the baseball diamond. Holding down the shortstop position regularly, Eddie moved to the mound to do some pretty fancy twirling for the Cardinal nine last season.

Recently the Cards moved to Cave City for a tilt with that team and found on their arrival would-be smarties had decorated the gym with various welcome (?) signs. One read: "What is the $64 ques-

Another casualty was added to the list Sunday night when Johnny Givens, flashy freshman guard, underwent an appendectomy at the City hospital. Johnny, a McHenry product, was included on the Hilltopper squad which made the eastern trip. He has shown much promise this season in the six games in which he has appeared. One of the speediest men on the squad, Johnny bids to become a top-notch Western sentry before graduation.

George Heller, another capable reserve guard, also had the misfortune to be sidelined by an injury and has not been in uniform since the Evansville battle. George fractured a wrist on the eve of the eastern invasion and was forced to stay in Bowling Green. Nominations for the "tough-luck" boys of the month—Givens and Heller!

This column would hardly be complete this time did we not stop to say a few words concerning an item of clothing one of the student body has recently purchased. This gentleman, and we refer to Chalmers Embry, has become one of the sharpest dressed men on the Hilltop campus due to his recent purchase of a Super-De-Lux, M-1, A-1, 1947 model Hamburg. Reports have it Coach Diddle, fearing his team would take cold on their recent eastern tour, strongly recommended the purchase of one lid per man. Thus the Homberg came into existence—shall we all bow our heads for a moment of silent prayer.

chapel and possible public performance in Van Meter. The program was: String Quartet No. 30 in G minor by Haydn; String Quartet No. 1 (Two Movements) composed by Dr. Hart; and String Quartet in C minor Opus 18, No. 4 by Beethoven. Being the first organization of its kind in the department, the Quarter has commanded a great deal of interest among town enthusiasts as well as music students on the Hill. Dr. Hart stated that one of its foremost intentions is to arouse student interest and appreciation of ensemble music.

Dr. Weldon Hart is judging contest compositions submitted by Louisville Junior and Senior High Schools to Mr. Robert Whitney, director of the Louisville Philharmonic Orchestra, sponsors of the composition contest. Among the pieces are piano and orchestra compositions. Dr. Hart, in commenting on the works, stated that "they were very interesting and show a great deal of talent among the Louisville student musicians."

The department was visited by two former Western music students last week. Miss Dorothy Tarr, Whit- ing, Indiana, a graduate of Western, is now working as Quality Control Supervisor for U. S. Gypsum in East Chicago, Illinois. Miss Tarr is still quite active in music and among her activities she plays second clarinet in the Gary Symphony Orchestra and is vice-president of the organization. She teaches a large class of clarinet students in Tolleston High School, Gary, and also plays with several chamber groups.

Ensign Murrel Brite, Hartford, before enlisting in the Navy was an active music student and played in the College Band several years. He has seen a great deal of action in the Pacific and expects to remain in the Navy for a career.

Yesterday afternoon in the Choral Room of the Music building the music department presented the second Student Recital of the school year. Included on the program were instrumental solos for clarinet, violin, and cello along with a piano duet and several piano solos and vocal numbers.
